

Restorative

You are adept at dealing with problems. You are good at figuring out what is wrong and resolving it. Your talent is valuable because you are energized, rather than defeated by problems.

General Academic Life

Think about school as a way to improve yourself. You will increase your motivation, particularly if you reflect on your progress.

Read the syllabus when you get it, and attack assignments or areas that you consider problematic.

Do not let an unexpectedly low grade defeat your spirits. Learn how to more effectively apply your greatest talents.

Study Techniques

Ask your professors what your weaknesses are, and create support systems or complementary partnerships through which you can manage them.

Make a list of ways in which you can apply your most powerful talents to improve in each class.

Research every missed test question to determine your gaps in knowledge, and fill those gaps.

Relationships

Let others know that you enjoy fixing their problems.

Ask friends for honest feedback about your weaknesses.

Build relationships with people who appreciate your ability to help them identify problems.

Class Selection

Select classes that emphasize case solutions.

Select classes in which you learn to solve problems.

Choose classes led by a professor who wants to fix things.

Extracurricular Activities

Raise money for the disadvantaged.

Organize a club that tackles and solves social issues on campus.

Join an organization in which you can restore something to its original condition.
