

Significance

You are independent and want to be recognized for the difference you make in the world. Your talent is valuable because it can be a source of energy for doing good and helpful things that will outlive you. You are motivated by a driving force to produce transformational, lasting change.

General Academic Life

Think about why a particular class is important to your future.

Identify three of your personal goals and connect them to your academic life

Take control of your life, beginning with your education.

Create a list of goals that will bring you great satisfaction in your personal life. Then consider how college can help you reach those goals.

Study Techniques

Take a leadership role in a study group.

Choose to study with other hard-charging classmates.

Establish relationships with your professors so they know who you are and of your interest in achieving.

Relationships

Associate with professors and students whose interests and goals are similar to your own.

You want people to know who you are. Become friends with people in your classes by initiating conversations with them.

You want people to appreciate your work, but if appreciation is not shown, don't give up. Work even harder.

Class Selection

Choose classes that offer you some independence.

Select classes relevant to your goals and desires.

Select classes in which you can be highly successful.

Extracurricular Activities

Take part in activities that display and make use of your confidence -- make public appearances, climb mountains.

Run for an elected office.

